Zoo Crew Feelings Check-In Wheel

Print this as a classroom poster near the rug, door, or calm corner. Each character gives children one clear feeling word and one short sentence starter.

Ready

GREEN ZONE

Ready

Calm and ready to learn.

I feel ready. I can start.

Proud

GREEN ZONE

Proud

Excited to keep trying.

I feel proud. I want to help.

Silly

YELLOW ZONE

Silly

Bouncy body needs a reset.

I feel silly. I need a body reset.

Nervous

YELLOW ZONE

Nervous

Needs safety and a clear next step.

I feel nervous. Please show me what comes next.

Sad

BLUE ZONE

Sad

Needs comfort and connection.

I feel sad. I need gentle help.

Lonely

BLUE ZONE

Lonely

Needs a kind friend or helper.

I feel lonely. I need a friend.

Frustrated

RED ZONE

Frustrated

Needs support with the hard part.

I feel frustrated. I need help.

Angry

RED ZONE

Angry

Needs space and a calm plan.

I feel angry. I need a calm plan.

Teacher move: Ask children to point first, then say the sentence starter. Keep your response short: "I see it. Here is your next step." The goal is not a long conversation. The goal is fast, usable co-regulation.

Feelings Check-In Cards

Cut these apart for lanyards, desk rings, basket cards, or a small-group check-in station.
